

PROVIDER ALERT

EpiPen Extended Use Notification

To:	Alliance Contracted Pharmacies	Recall Class:	N/A
From:	Alliance Pharmacy Services	Recall Issue Date:	08/21/2018
Date:	1/18/2019	Recall #:	N/A
Subject:	Extended Use Dates for EpiPen	Manufacturer:	Pfizer
Products:	Medi-Cal, Group Care	Reason:	Intermittent supply interruptions of EpiPen

Due to the temporary intermittent shortage of the EpiPen supply, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is alerting health care professionals and patients that some EpiPens and its authorized generic version, manufactured by Meridian Medical Technologies, a Pfizer company, may be used beyond the manufacturer's labeled expiration date. To ensure patient safety, these products should continue to be stored as labeled.

After reviewing Pfizer's stability data, the FDA approved the extended use dates for the specific EpiPen batches indicated in the tables below. Patients that have EpiPens with the following batch numbers will be able to use them through the corresponding new use dates. As new data becomes available, this list may continue to expand.

The FDA does not require or recommend that the identified batches in the following tables be relabeled with their new use dates. However, if an EpiPen replacement product becomes available during the Pfizer recall extension period, then the lots in these tables should be replaced and properly disposed of as soon as possible.
